

The BLUE BONNET

1846 - 1946

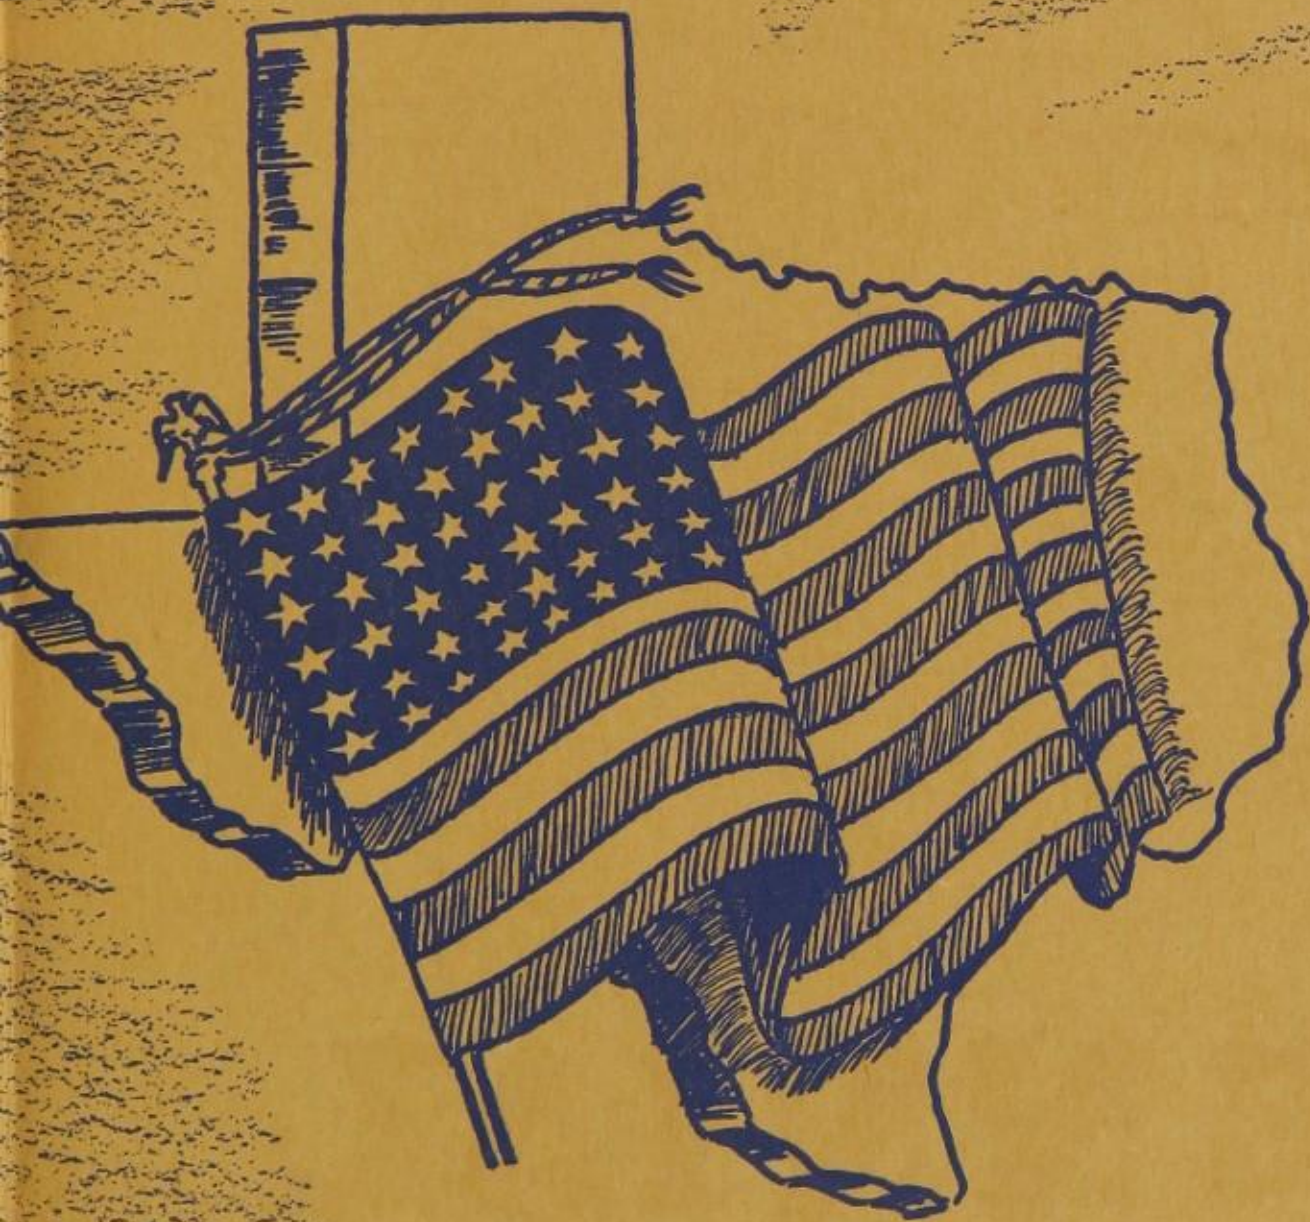

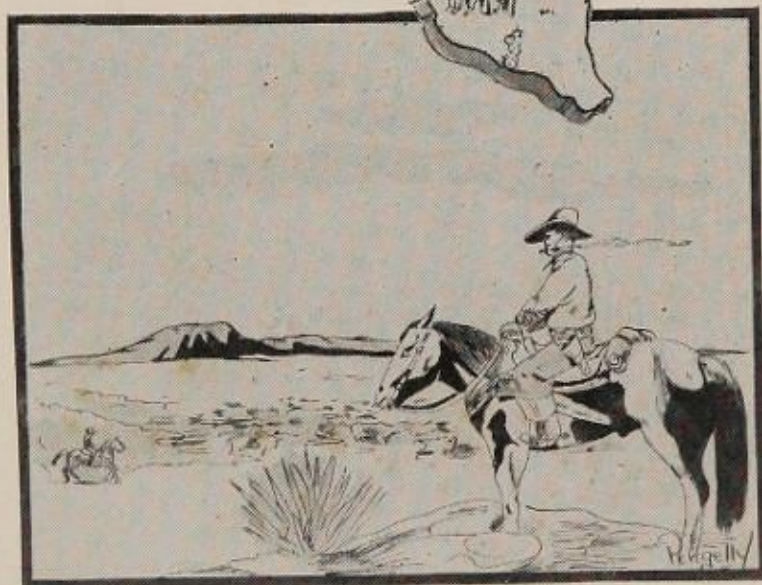

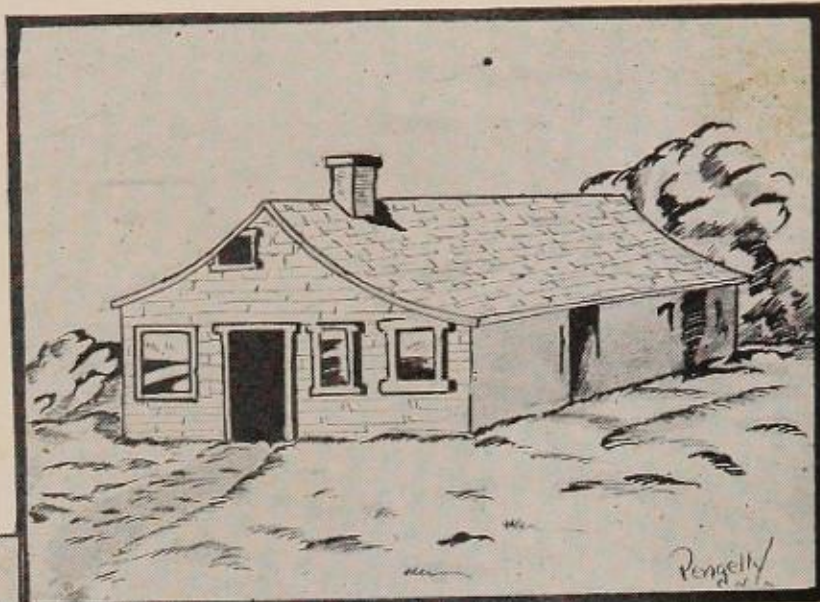

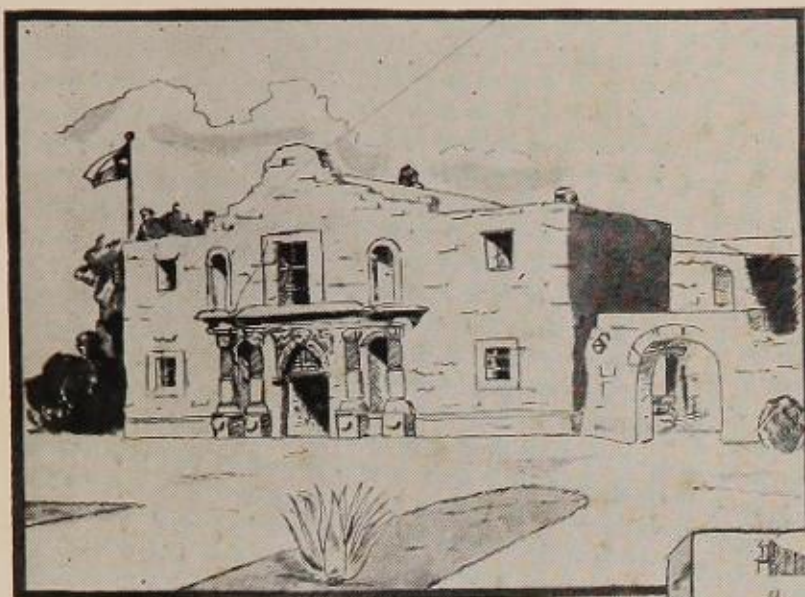

CENTENNIAL NUMBER

1946

ACADEMIC

The year 1946 marks Texas' one hundredth year in the Union. Consequently, we the class of '46, thought it only fitting to devote our Yearbook to this century of progress. During her one hundred years in the Union, Texas has developed from a land with no industry or income into one possessing not only the greatest cattle and oil industry in the Union, but also the plans and the momentum toward another one hundred years which will mold it into as great an industrial state as it is now an agricultural state. As you turn through the pages of this Yearbook, therefore, we hope they will remind you of the one hundred years gone by and that you will see in them the history of the struggle to fashion from the wilderness this vast southwestern empire. Texas Military Institute has had the privilege of training leaders and men of character for Texas in the past, and it will continue to furnish leaders of the Texas of tomorrow. And so the Yearbook dedicates itself to the first one hundred years of Texas in the Union and looks forward to the second hundred with courage —and with the blueprints!

Dedication

"Behold, a sower went forth to sow . . ."

The members of the Blue Bonnet Staff deem it a privilege to dedicate this Texas Centennial Number to J. W. Culver, B. H. Meyer, and W. W. Bondurant, Sr.

These men stand among the ranks of honored fathers who have carved from this wilderness an empire. With the courage, hardihood, and moral conviction of pioneers, they have sown into the minds and hearts of countless thousands of their fellow beings, wisdom, righteousness, and noble living.

No greater tribute can be paid them than to echo the words of all who know them: "They taught us how to grow."

Membership in the National Honor Society is the highest award for individual achievement that a cadet can receive. The members of this Society are chosen by the faculty and must stand high in scholarship, leadership, service and character. The number of members is limited to five per cent of the juniors, and fifteen per cent of the seniors. T. M. I. is one of the very few private schools to enjoy the distinction of having a charter of this Society.

BOOK ONE

Then and Now

Away back in 1886, Dr. W. B. Seeley, a Princeton graduate, established a school on Houston Street. That school has grown into San Antonio Academy. The cover drawing is our artist's idea of how the Houston Street school looked.

This present volume of the Academy Blue Bonnet celebrates the 60th anniversary of Dr. Seeley's work. The ideals and high concept that he built into his school have been preserved and added to by Dr. W. W. Bondurant and Lt. Col. W. T. Bondurant, who have succeeded him as heads of the school.

PROF. B. H. MEYER

DR. W. W. BONDURANT, SR.

To these three men goes much of the thanks and the praise for the eminence of our school. They manned the ship, upon which beat unavailingly the waves of uncertainty during the early years of this century. Theirs were the hands that set that ship on the true course of scholarship and character—a course that had been charted by the school's founder, Dr. Seeley—a course upon which the present management is directing the school.

AS HISTORY SEES US

A Short History of San Antonio Academy

By JOHN CONLON

Who among our sires and grandsires can remember the old Seeley House? Whoever can must confess to 59 years of memory. For the San Antonio Academy was first founded sixty years ago in the second story of a grocery store on Houston Street. In 1886 when the school was founded, there was no St. Anthony Hotel, and Travis Park offered a playground for the boys. During its first year the school became affiliated with Texas University.

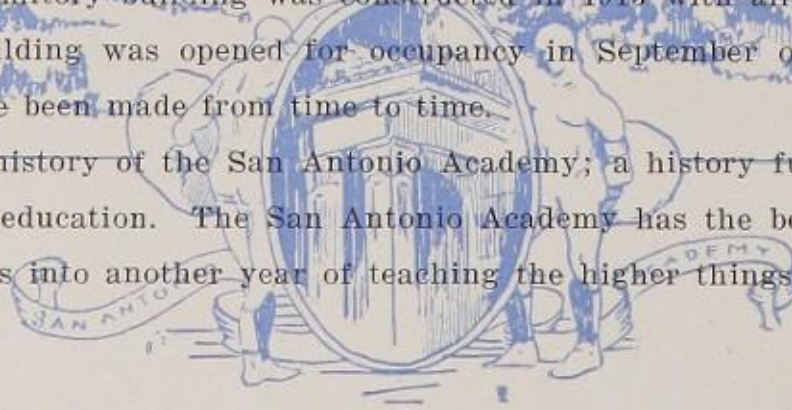

The founder of the San Antonio Academy was Dr. W. B. Seeley. He was a graduate of Princeton University in the famous class of 1879, with Woodrow Wilson and many other men of national fame. Having been an instructor in one of our foremost private schools in the East, Doctor Seeley came and started the San Antonio Academy here. His record of twenty years service until 1906, when he retired, speaks in itself for his sterling character and golden heart.

In 1888 the school had outgrown its original site so it was moved to its present location; at that time it was far "out in the sticks." This site was across from the beautiful San Pedro Park. At that time there was only a rabbit-path connecting the school grounds with the park. The park offered a perfect playground for the cadets.

During the late spring of 1926 the San Antonio Academy felt that it had outgrown its surroundings, so the school authorities began looking for additional quarters. Meanwhile the authorities of West Texas Military Academy began searching for a superintendent after the resignation of Col. J. Tom Williams. Both problems were solved when the two schools were consolidated and the name of West Texas Military Academy was changed to Texas Military Institute.

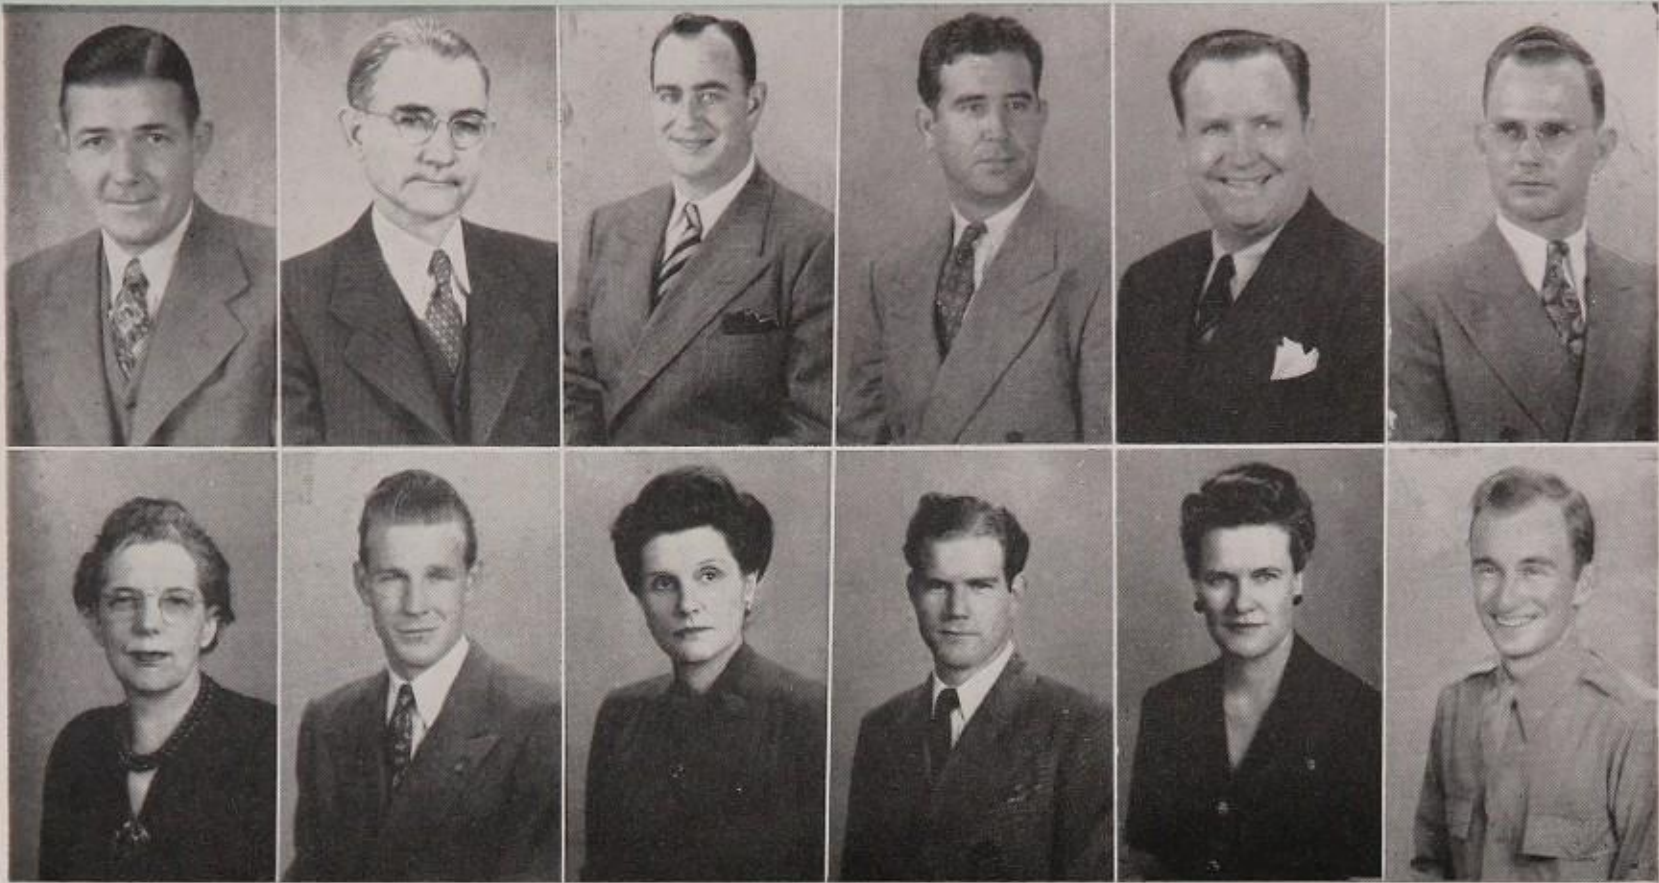

When the San Antonio Academy was first moved to its present location, the buildings were not the same buildings that you see now, but several frame structures grouped together. The dormitory building was constructed in 1913 with all conveniences. The administration building was opened for occupancy in September of 1923. Since then improvements have been made from time to time.

So this is the history of the San Antonio Academy; a history full of the glories of higher and better education. The San Antonio Academy has the best wishes of all its alumni as it passes into another year of teaching the higher things that are not found in books.

Scholarship

In 1888 Dr. Seeley moved his school from Houston Street to its present location by San Pedro Park. At that time the school was housed in frame buildings and the campus presented very different views from those we now see. The picture on the cover of this section, taken from an old post card, shows the school as seen in 1906. During those early years many things were different around the school, and, boys, it seems we were born too late, for they had girls at the school as an inspection of the following honor roll will show. The watchword of Dr. Seeley's administration was sound scholarship, and this direction has been followed by the school since his time.

The Staff wishes to thank everybody who aided us in making this book, commemorating the 60th Anniversary celebration of our school, a success. Many students other than the staff helped in various ways.

In particular do we wish to thank Mr. C. I. Brown, who, as business sponsor for a second year, was very helpful in making this book pay its way. Thanks also go to Miss Edith Biles for clerical and critical assistance, and to Mr. J. H. Eargle, who aided the circulation department. No card of thanks would be complete without the mention of Mr. Samuel E. Reed, whose photographic skill put us down in graceful lines and curves as we were in 1946. In addition, our thanks go to our many advertisers, old and new.

Academy boys always look forward to commencement with keen anticipation. The exercises themselves combine field day features with literary events. It is yet too early when this book goes to press to present this year's program, but in the belief that many boys will like to have a permanent record of commencement, the high lights of the news story of last year's exercises as reported in San Antonio Express, are given below:

SAN ANTONIO ACADEMY STUDENTS RECEIVE AWARDS AT GRADUATION

Six students of the San Antonio Military Academy were awarded scholarship medals and 32 other students were presented merit awards by Lt. Col. W. T. Bondurant, academy president, at commencement exercises of the school Wednesday at the San Pedro Playhouse.

The scholarship medals were won by Martin Kreimerman of Mexico City, eighth grade; Richard Calvert, seventh grade; Nathan Kallison, sixth grade; Merton M. Minter, Jr., fifth grade; Charles Shields, fourth grade, and Creston King, Jr., third grade.

In a battalion parade and company drill competition preceding the exercises in the playhouse, Co. A, commanded by Cadet Capt. Stanley Rosenberg, was adjudged best company. Each member received a ribbon in recognition of his achievement.

Cadets passed in review before Bondurant, Capt. Arthur Walker, professor of military science and tactics at Texas Military Institute; Lt. Malcolm Judson and Col. Harry M. Henderson. Henderson presented the ribbon to the winning company.

During exercises in the playhouse, a silver trophy, offered by J. Stuart Pearce, Jr., coach, to the best all-round athlete, was awarded to Reagan Houston Williams.

Opening the program in the playhouse was an address of welcome by Stanley Rosenberg, salutatorian. Martin Kreimerman delivered the valedictory.

Other program speakers included Richard Calvert, who gave an abridgment of President Truman's radio talk to the armed forces; Nathan Kallison, who presented parts of the late President Roosevelt's last prepared speech; Merton M. Minter, Jr., who recited "The Land Where Hate Should Die"; Richard Heintz, who gave "Be the Best of Whatever You Are," and Charles Shields, who presented "The Fellow Who is Doing His Best."

Kreimerman, Jimmy Craddock, Steve Werner and Maurice Mazel played piano selections.

The program closed with a concert by the San Antonio Academy Band, under the direction of Jimmie Klein. Prior to the concert, Vernon Mayfield, band chairman of the Texas Music Educators' Ass'n., presented the band with a scroll for winning first division in the state contest held here in April. Charles Woods presented a citation to the band from the Music War Council of America for the band's co-operation in war activities.

Other awards presented included honor pins to Richard Calvert, Jedd Roe, Jack Pancoast and Don Danvers for having no demerits during the session.

First place in best-room competition was won by Bob Werner and Leonel Soto of Parral, Mex.; second place went to Louis Yates and Wert Love of Marfa, while third was won by Richard Rhoad of New Iberia, La., and Justo Acosta of Parral.

Awards for proficiency in piano playing were won by David Christian, Jim Craddock, Charles Eidson, Robert Gilliland, Martin Kreimerman, Jim Lehman, Maurice Mazel, Strauder Nelson, Waldon Smith and Steve Werner, all members of the academy music class of Miss Winifred Alvis.

First-prize medals in band instrument playing were awarded by the instructor, Jimmie Klein, to Robert Denison, Robert Gideon, Bob Gilliland, Bob Killian, Martin Kreimerman, Wert Love, Jack Pancoast, Harry Pennington, Russell Reinoehl, Billy Stahl and Sam Woolsey.

OUR PART

To this flag, millions of the oppressed in many lands turned with longing and hope during the war-torn years. To millions this flag came too late; they had already perished under the heel of the invader. Our flag now flies over many cemeteries in foreign lands—guarding the resting place of American men and women who died in Freedom's cause. As school boys we should revere our flag and resolve to keep the government, for which it stands, strong and able at all times to meet the challenge of oppressors throughout the world.

The Academy Band has gone on to its second year with many new honors under the direction of Jimmie Klein and with the full co-operation of Col. W. T. Bondurant who is back of the band, heart and soul.

The boys have played for the wounded soldiers at Brooke General Hospital and for many other entertainments. They went to the all-state contest in San Marcos and placed high on the list of the best bands in the state. In addition, the marching band provided music for the weekly dress parade and retreat reviews, and the orchestra played at chapel and literary society exercises.

Sportsmanship

Fun and fair play summarize the theme song of our athletic endeavors. To win, yes, but S. A. A. and its student group look upon an athletic event as a possible losing proposition; hence it is always fun—win or lose.

Good sportsmanship, clean speech, and a sense of fairness on the playground and in contest games, have each been emphasized for years by Academy coaches. It is believed that such training carries over into the future life of the boys. The boys will long remember how faithfully Coach Smith worked with them.
